MARRIED WHILE DRUNK. Charge of a Wealthy Manufacturer Whose Son Deserted His Wife.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 28.-Frederick W. Penn, son of George Penn, a wealthy steel manufacturer of this city, was married a few months ago to one Catharine O'Donnell, a handsome young woman, and it was alleged that the bridegroom was intoxicated at the time. At any rate, the young man disappeared soon afterwards, and has not returned to Syracuse, and Mrs. Penn went to Pittsburg, where she is staying with her sister. Before leaving Mrs. Penn began a suit against the elder Penn for $20,000 for the alienation of her husband's affections, and the detendant has just filed his answer. To the first count of the complaint, which sets forth the marriage of the plaintiff to Frederick W. Penn, the defendant denies knowledge of or information sufficient to form a belief. Then he alleges that at the time of the pretended marriage his son was drunk and uncon rious of his acts; that the plaintiff, with other parties, who were aiding and abetting her, took him in a carriage to a minister and induced the minister to perorm a marriage ceremony; that when the young man became sober he immediately lated the marriage of his own voliion, and that the defendant in no way ined him thereto. No one appears to now the young man's whereabouts save An action for divorce was begun on alf of the young man, and a summons was served upon the wife's attorneys, but no further steps were taken, the time expiring without the complaint being served. Then, after the wife had vainly tried to have George Penn and others indicted for conspiracy, the action for alienating her bushand's affections was begun.

EX-CHIEF DRUMMOND HAULED OVER THE COALS.

the Secret Service Bureau Regarding the Search for the Fugitive.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 .- Now that Mr. Drummond, who was chief of the United States secret service under the last administration, has effected the capture of Captain Howgate he will be called upon by the Treasury Department to make some explanation in regard to certain features of his connection with the Howgate case. It is understood that Mr. Drummond will be called upon to explain why it was that he left no record in the files of the bureau about the Howgate case when he severed his connection with the secret service. It is said at the Treasury Department that Mr. Drummond claimed to be working on the Howgate case in June, 1803. At that time the Cleveland administration, having been in power over three months, determined to displace Mr. Drummond, who was a Republican, and give his place to Mr. Hazen, a Democrat. Mr. Drummond, it is alleged, represented to Secretary Carlisle that he was then engaged in efforts to capture Captain Howgate, and that to displace him at that juncture would interfere with the apprehension of the fugitive. Upon this assurance Secretary Carlisle de-ferred action, but after the lapse of eight months, with still no news of Howgate, the Secretary concluded that he would make a change. Mr. Drummond's resigna-tion was handed in. Soon after taking charge of the office Mr. Hazen had occasion to look up the Howgate case, but it is said he could find no trace in the files of the department of anything concerning the history of the efforts of the department to capture Howgate. The first im pulse of the Treasury Department officials was to call upon Mr. Drummond to give an account of his stewardship in this matter, but for certain reasons it was concluded not to mention the matter to him at that time. In the early part of this month the secret service bureau received information that Howgate was in New York, and that he was haunting a certain ocality. The bureau went to work upon this hint, but had not found Captain Howgate at the time that Drummond discovered his game. Now that the whole whing has come to light it is understood that the Treasury Department will call upon Mr Drummond to tell what he may know of any papers or data upon the Howgate case. A legal demand of this kind can be made, for there is a statute regulating the dispotion of public papers and documents by Howgate to Be Taken to Washington. NEW YORK, Sept. 28 .- Captain Howgate, who was arrested in this city yesterday on a charge of embezzling over $100,000 from the government, was brought before Judge Benedict in the United States District Court, in the federal building, on an application for an order for his removal to Washington, where his case will be tried. Judge Benedict asked the prisoner if he had any objection to being taken to that city, and he replied that he had not, Judge Benedict then signed the order.

At Ludlow-street jail it was said that Howgate would not be taken to Washington to-night, and it was a question whether he would leave the jail to-morrow, as no order for his removal had yet been re-

PARKHURSTS GROWING NUMEROUS. A Jersey City Preacher Proposes to , Storm the Haunts of Vice.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 .- Rev. J. L. Scudder is not going to be the only imitator of Dr. Parkhurst. The latest clergyman to pose as a moral crusader is the Rev. James Parker, of the Second United Presbyterian Church, on Hancock avenue, Jersey City. This gentleman proposes to start a society which is to be modeled somewhat after the famous Parkhurst society in New York. It is to be organized in a few weeks. The Rev. Mr. Parker, in speaking of the coming crusade, said: "The society will be nonsectarian and nonpartisan, and under no circumstances will it enter politics. The main object will be to see that the laws in Hudson county, and especially those providing for a proper observance of the Sabbath, are observed. The authorities are daily induced by powerful influences to close their eyes to certain things. We will open their eyes and give them backbone. When the forces of vice are daily brought to bear on an official and nobody opposes them, it is natural that he should be swayed and give way to them. Nearly all the ministers in the county favor the soclety and will join it. All laymen who are interested in the movement will be welcomed. The movement may develop into one as grand as the one of which the Rev. Parkhurst is the head."

NOTED CROOK CAPTURED.

Richard Davis, a Check Raiser and Forger, Arrested at New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.-Richard Davis, a crook known all over the country, and now wanted particularly in Cincinnati, is in custody. In company with two "pais" named Bob Bowman and Charles Becker, Davis went over the country passing bogus drafts. In April last Davis went into the North Lafayette Bank, in Cincinnati, and presented a draft to the paying teller for $1,200. It was drawn to the order of James Camp and signed by A. Senior & Son. of Cincinnati. On the back was an indorsement waiving identification. The money was paid, and some days later it was found that $1,200 had been raised from $12. The police of every city in the United States were placed on the case. He was identified by his picture, held by the Clucinnati police. police here knew that the man while in New York frequented a house in West Fourth street, and there he was caught. Davis was arrested in this city in 1883 for forging a check of $500 on the firm of Harris & Co., No. 11 Wall street. For this he served six years. Bowman, one of Davis's partners, is now under arrest in Atlantic, la. Davis was remanded in court to-day.

Flogged by a Woman. COURTLAND, Ala., Sept. 28.—Abe Abraham, a prominent merchant, was publicly cowhided here to-day by Miss Lucille Doss, daughter of Porter Doss, sr., proprietor of the Doss Hotel. It is said that Abraham made a disparaging remark about Miss Doss, which reached her ears. The young woman armed herself with a cowhide and proceeded to give her alleged defamer a flogging that brought blood with every blow, and made him beg for mercy. Abraham was also attacked by a brother of the young lady, and would have been killed but for the interference of the chief of police, who arrested all the parties.

AFTER LUMBER KINGS.

Insurance Men May Prosecute Them for Starting Forest Fires.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 .- President W. J. Littlejohn, of the Underwriters' Association of the Northwest, who, in an address before that organization, declared that the recent forest fires were ordered started by lumber kings, in an interview stated that his charges were based on investigations made under his direction. "These fires have occurred every year," said Mr. Littlejohn," and it was apparent that there must be some motive for the incendiarism. Our company accordingly sent men up into Michigan and Wisconsin this summer to make investigations, and they secured suffiicent evidence to satisfy me, in my own mind, that some of the big lumber dealers fired the forests in order to hide the evilences of their timber stealings. The eviience is not sufficiently strong to warrant charging any particular men with the deeds, however. I am informed that the States of Michigan and Wisconsin have appointed secret commissions to investigate fires. Until we know that such is the case and what results follow the work of the State authorities the insurance organization will do nothing. There is a possibility however, that, in event of the failure o these commissioners to develop the matter. some of the insurance unions will take up the prosecution themselves. I am confident that State authorities can secure all the necessary evidence if they try, for the slight investigation I have already made convinces me that there are wealthy lumber men who should be made to suffer for the horror and destruction of this year's fires."

IN HONOR OF MISS WILLARD.

Welcome and Reception to the Noted Temperance Worker.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 .- Willard Hall, in the Women's Temple, was crowded to overflowing to-day by W. C. T. U. members. who had assembled to welcome Miss Frances Willard from her trip abroad. The occasion was the unveiling of the Chautauqua fountain, presented to the Women's Christian Temperance Union by Chautauqua county, New York, to commemorate the birth of the union there in 1874. Addresses were made by Miss Willard and other women prominent in the organization. The day's exercises were followed by reception, held at the First Congregationa Church, to-night. An immense audience was present, and the affair was a notable one, the celebration being especially appro priate, as it was Miss Williard's fifty-fifth birthday. The order of exercises were ad-dresses on behalf of the citizens by C. C. Bonney; the clergy, by John Henry Bar rows; the educators, by Henry Wade Rogers, president of the Northwestern University on behalf of the Prohibition party, by Samuel Dickie, chairman national Prohibition committee; on behalf of the Catholic Total Abstinence Society, by W. J. Onahan; the Salvation Army, by Brigadier Edward Fielding; labor organizations, by M. H. NO MORE HAZING.

The Brutal Custom Abolished by Students of Princeton University.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 28 .- To-day marked the beginning of a new era in the history of Princeton. The entire undergraduate body, in mass meeting assembled, voted to abolish the entire custom of hazing. This action was a response to the appeal made by J. W. Alexander, of New Gordon Johnson voiced the sentiment of the upper classmen when he said: "The fair name of Princeton has long been dis-graced by this brutal and cowardly custom, and it has become our duty, as friends of our alma mater, to abolish it once and for all." H. O. Brown, left end on the football team, then moved that hazing in all its phases be abolished. This was carried unanimously amid loud cheering.

W. K., Wife, Daughter and Son Arrive at New York on the Lucania.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.-Mrs. William K Vanderbilt, W. K. Vanderbilt, Miss Vanderbilt and Master Harold Vanderbilt arrived to-night on the steamer Lucania. The party was met at the landing only by a man servant and a crowd of newspaper men. Several of the latter attempted to interview Mrs. Vanderbilt, but were unsuccessful. She refused to answer any of their questions, and the party was driven direct to the Vanderbilt mansion, at Fifty - third street and Fifth avenue.

German Pythians Will Not Secede. MILWAUKEE, Sept. 28.-Since the recent mass meeting of members of the K. of P., held in this city, at which action was taken upon the matter of the German ritual, the various German lodges in this State have held separate meetings and have indorsed the action of the general counsel. The German members deplore the circulation broadcast of the report that they at any time contemplated withdrawing from the order, something, they said, was never thought of in Wisconsin. The only thing they did was to denounce the language used by Supreme Chancellor Blackwell, and the idea of seceding was never considered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.-Dr. Tynan, the capitalist who, after a disappearance for two years, was found by Slater, the spiritualist, does not believe that Slater was aided by spirits in finding him. Slater said that the ghost of Maria Marvin Tynan, the Doctor's first wife, told him where to find the missing man. Tynan says that Maria Tynan was his mother, not his wife, and he believes that Slater merely saw him on the streets of Boston and recognized him as any other man might have done. Gov. McKinley Discusses Effects of the New Tariff Law.

He Says that While Englishmen Claim It Has Revived Their Industries It Has Had No Like Influence Here.

WILSON'S SPEECH REVIEWED

His Lack of Faith in His Own Government Pointed Out.

Committee Appointed to Notify Mr. Hill and His Fellow-Nominees-New York Constitutional Convention.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Sept. 28.-Here, in beautiful park on the bank of the Ohlo river, on whose opposite shore rises the hills of West Virginia, the author of the McKinley tariff law paid his compliments to the author of the Wilson tariff law. It was a notable occasion. There was a goodsized audience present, composed in part of West Virginians, who joined as heartily as their Ohio neighbors in applauding the satirical references to the famous West Vir-Representatives, Mr. Wilson. In the course of his long address Governor McKinley inquired what industries the tariff law of 1894 created and what existing industries it had

"I find answer to my question in the newspaper dispatches of to-day from Lon-don, furnishing particulars of a banquet given by the Chamber of Commerce of London to Mr. Wilson, member of Congress from the State of West Virginia, whose rugged hillsides I see just over the river. Sir Albert Kaye Rollitt, who presided at the banquet, said that Mr. Wilson's name had become honored and familiar in England, and that London, in honoring him, honored itself; that the new tariff law, while it might not have realized the aspirations of its promoters, had already ben-efited England. Furnaces have been reopened in Wales and Yorkshire and an impetus had been given to the textile industries. This will be cheering news to the people of the United States, and will bring confort to the idle men who for a year have been waiting for the American mills to reopen. You have not heard of any commercial body in the United States. through its spokesman, declaring that any ndustries in America have been stimulated by this law, whatever benefits have gone to other countries. While the banquet at Condon was proceeding the Edinburgh Board of Trade sent its congratulations. There was a singular absence of any Amercan dispatches. (Prolonged applause.) "Here is a word of encouragement which Mr. Wilson himself gave to the gentlemen of London. He said: 'Our protectionists have been building defenses to keep you and other nations from competing with us in our home markets. The tariff reformers are breaking down these defenses.' That, continued Governor McKinley, "is what we object to. If we do not defend our home markets against the products of the cheaper labor of other countries who will? Is it any wonder that the gentlemen of the Caamber of Commerce of London applaud-ed Mr. Wilson when he uttered such a sentiment? Mr. Wilson even despairs of free government, for he said: 'We are being rapidly sobered, though unappalled by the truth forced upon us that of all human governments a free government is the most complex and difficult, and, judging from the world's experience, the most uncertain and short lived.' I beg to assure Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, that the government of the United States, resting, as it does upon the will of a free people, is safe and secure-quite as secure as the government that are conducted by the titled few, and that a free people like ours, capable of governing themselves, and having so demonstrated for more than one hundred years, will be alert enough to see to it that no industrial policy shall long continue in this country that will lower the conditions of its people to the level of their European rivals and rob them of their dignity and independence.' PROPOSED REFORMS.

Work of the New York Constitutional Convention. ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 28 .- To-day was practically, the closing day of the New York State constitutional convention. The chief bone of contention has been the apportionment for future senatorial and assembly districts. The Republican majority claims that the apportionment is fair to all concerned, but the Democratic minority claims it discriminates against the large cities in favor of the country districts and that the discrimination was unfair to the Democratic party as a whole. It was voted to split the bill into sections, though the sections are not as numerous as the leaders of the Democratic minority would have preferred. The measure will be submitted to the people in the form of three ballots. The first ballot provides for the adoption of the twenty-nine articles; the second for the apportionment articles, and the third for the canal improvement measure. President Choate appointed a committee to prepare an address to the people, explaining the work of the convention. The Democrats refused to serve and the Republicans were finally compelled to prepare the address without their assistance. The Democrats assert that they will prepare an address denouncing the address prepared by the majority. The majority's address explains that of the four hundred amendments proposed only thirty-one have been accepted. These amendments provide for the separation in the larger cities of the municipal elections from the national and State elections; for the prohibition of lotteries, pool-selling, book-making and all forms of gambling; for the abolition of the statutory prevision limiting the right to recovery for injuries causing death to $5,000: for the prevention of the naturalization o foreigners during a period of ninety days previous to a general election; for the adoption of the most approved mechanical devices in elections; for the establishment of a system of registration; for a new apportionment of Senate and Assembly districts, fixing the number of Senators at fifty and the number of Assemblymen at 150; for the enforcement of the principle of civil-service reform; for the prohibition of the contract system of convict labor, etc.

TO NOTIFY NOMINEES. Committee of New York Democrats

Appointed.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 28.-Charles R. De Freest, clerk of the Democratic State convention, has appointed the following committee to wait upon Messrs. Hill, Lockwood and Gaynor and notify them of their nomination: James W. Hinckley, chairman of the Democratic central committee; Congressman Bourke Cockran, James G. Bell, Senator Amasa J. Parke and ex-Senator Charles P. McClelland. Senator Hill will probably open the State ampaign in the city of Brooklyn. For the past three campaigns his opening speech has been in the City of Churches. and he will do the same this year. Senator Hill told a reporter to-day that he had received telegrams of invitation to thus open the campaign, and that he had replied that he would be pleased to accept, provided a meeting is arranged by the united Democracy of Kings county. Lamont Thinks Hill Can Be Elected. WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 .- Secretary Lamont, when asked to-day about the Democratic nominations in New York and the general situation as to the gubernatorial canvass, said: "I see no reason why Mr. Hill should not be elected. New York is a Democratic State and has been for thirty years. Mr. Hill is a vote getter, and the campaign will undoubtedly be an active one. There may be some men of greater or less prominence, with more or less of a following, who will refuse to support him, but he will not be concerned about that. He has his own way of making a canvass, and will look elsewhere for his votes. He has unquestionably looked the ground over and knows about where his strength lies, and thoroughly understands the situation. I see no reason why Mr. Hill should not be elected."

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 .- "Jack the Whipper" has broken loose and is making life full of terror to the female bicyclists who ride in Washington Park during the evening.

Jack has a frantic aversion to the bloom-ers, and his method of expressing his disapproval is to plant a few lusty welts with a rawkide upon every pair of bloomers that he can find with a girl inside them.

His plan for the last two nights has been to wait behind a tree until a bicyclist in ploomers comes along, then he springs out and plies the rawhide vigorously. He has severely whipped two young women and pursued several others. The park policemen have so far been unable to catch him.

> Fitzsimmons Reported to Be Angry-Dan Creedon's Story of the Fight at New Orleans-Alleged Foul Blow.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 28.-Pugilist Corbett was indignant to-day when shown a dispatch sent out by John L. Sullivan last night, accusing him of beating about the bush. Corbett said, in substance: "These people do not cut any ice with me. Sullivan had always more mouth than courage. He is a quitter from the word go, and I do not want to have anything to do with him. He is out of it, but there is one thing: If I ever meet Fitzsimmons in the party machinery in eight and Adams and White nine. In the eight counties controlled by Colson the order of Judge Jones will be defied and an election held. In counties controlled by Adams and White no election will be held. ring I will make a better fight than Sullivan did with me. Of course, Jake Kilrain, Sullivan and Jackson are sore, and I know it, but that does not make any difference to me. The Olympic Club does not want a fight; it wants to make money out of me. Now I am not inclined to let it until I have proof that Fitzsimmons is somewhere in my class, and this he can demonstrate by knocking out O'Donnell. I am making good money now, and am not taking any risks to please any number of soreheads." Corbett became excited as he talked, and plainly showed that he is deeply touched by the various stories which have been circulated within the past few hours. To-night Corbett sent the following letter to Fitz-

"Dear Sir-I have read in this morning's You say that the Olympic Club offers a purse. Well, maybe they do, but I have never heard from them as yet. You put $10,000 in the Olympic Club's hands. Why don't you put it up in some newspaper office, or some place where a man can see it; or is the Olympic Club backing you? However, that's neither here nor there. I suppose you are afraid if you put the money up in any other place besides the Olympic Club some one else might cover It is not necessary for me to give a well aware that I will not accept it unless you prove yourself a champion 'heavy weight' and not a 'middle weight.' I must acknowledge that as a 'middle weight' you have no equal, but all you ever did in the 'heavy-weight' class was to defeat Peter Maher and Joe Choynski, two second-class 'heavy weights,' since both of these men have been defeated by Joe Goddard, of Australia, another second-class heavy weight. No one knows this better than you. "I suppose you think that the public will think 'you're a very brave man to chal-lenge and fight me. Why shouldn't you do so? It is just like buying a lottery ticket to win $5,000 for $1. All you have to lose is $1, and it is the same case in fighting me. If I defeated you, of course, you would say: 'He ought to beat me; I am only a middle weight.' Just as when I beat Sullivan it was said, 'He is an old man;'

"Now, Mr. Fitzsimmons, if you really in your beart want to fight for the championship of the world you certainly, if you are on the level, want to prove yourself a champion heavy weight, and not a middle weight. All you have to do in the world to fight me for the championship is to prove to me and the world that you are capable of defeating any middle weight outside of me. You say that I promised to give you a match if you defeated Choynski or Creedon. When you say that you know that you lie. I never even noticed you, and don't intend to unless you prove your-self a 'champion heavy weight.' You want to jump over the heads of all these other people and take that dying chance with me, but I will fool you. Steve O'Donnell, forty-eight hours. "Now, how can you expect me to recognize you when this man stands ready with money behind him to prove to the world that he is your superior? If you will only meet him and defeat him I will accept an offer of $25,000 from the Olympic Club, and I will give you all the fight you want. If you want to fight me this is the only way you can ever get me to make a match with you for there is no power on earth. with you, for there is no power on earth that will make me notice you until you have defeated Steve O'Donnell, and any further talk from you I will consider simply put down as a bluff. I put myself on record in black and white that if you defeat O'Donnell I will fight you for the championship of the world and all the money you like. This is positively my ulti-

LONDON, Sept. 28 .- Arrived: Borderer, Fitzsimmons Angry. ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 28 .- "If Mr. Corbett will say that he does not want to meet Mr. Fitzsimmons, I won't bother him any more, but I will claim the heavy-weight He Is Terrorizing Chicago Female championship of the world and walk off with it. See?" This was the response of Robert Fitzimmons, champion middle-weight, to James J. Corbett's statement sent out by the press last night. Fitzsimmons and a crowd of sports stopped over here for a while to-day on their way North from New Or-leans. The champion midule-weight was mad at Corbett. "He wants me to meet Steve O'Donnell, eh? Let O'Donnell whip Maher or Hall or somebody. I have defeated them. Then I will fight him. I shall try to get a fight out of Corbett and shall put my fist in his face yet. There will be no trouble about my putting up $25,000, if that much is required."

O'DONNELL'S CHALLENGE.

Will Fight Fitzsimmons for $5,000 a BOSTON, Sept. 28.-Steve O'Donnell has published a challenge to fight Bob Fitzsimmons to a finish under Marquis of Queensbury rules, for $5,000 a side and the largest purse offered by any reputable club. As an evidence of good faith, O'Donnell has deposited $1,000 with David Blanchard, of Boston. O'Donnell offers to meet Fitzsimmons or his representative in New York any day next week in order to arrange the preliminaries of the match. Bob Fitzsimmons's letter to Corbett was shown to W. A. Brady, Corbett's manager. at the Bowdoin-square Theater to-day, "All I have to say in reply to that," observed Brady, "is that $1,000 is placed for a $5,000 or a $10,000 bet in the hands of David W. Blanchard that Fitzsimmons cannot beat O'Donnell. O'Donnell made him quit in Australia, and he can do it again. If Fitzsimmons wants to fight Corbett let him beat O'Donnell, and then Corbett will meet him, but not before. That is Corbett's ulti-In regard to the dispatch from New Orleans reporting that the Olympic Club will declare Fitzsimmons champion unless Corbett fights, Brady said: "That is all rot, I will not discuss the matter, for it is absurd on the face of it."
